

CURRICULUM VITAE

Dr. R.K. Shakthi Devan M.V.Sc, Ph.D (Pharmacology & Toxicology), currently working as Principal Scientist - Veterinary Science at Biocon Bristol Myers Squibb R&D Center (BBRC), Syngene International Ltd, Bangalore. The primary responsibilities include oversight of PAM program, health monitoring and diagnostics, study veterinarian for animal experiments of various therapeutic areas and surgical support including model development. Undergone training programs at NIEHS/NIH Research Triangle Park, NC; Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA; US EPA and Bristol Myers Squibb, NJ and CT USA. Conducted laboratory animal training programs and participated several national / international conferences / workshops related to laboratory animal science. Nominated as Ad hoc specialist by AAALAC in 2010 and more than 15 years of industrial experience (Regulatory Toxicology / Discovery Toxicology / Laboratory Animal Management including Quality Assurance and Regulatory Compliance at Vivarium). Prior to this role served as Scientist II at International Institute of Biotechnology and Toxicology (GLP Certified), conducted acute, sub-acute and sub-chronic studies in rodents and non-rodents. Served as Treasurer for LASACON-2016 and actively involved in organizing AFLAS Congress 2018. Membership in LASA, STOX, IPS, ISVPT, AALAS. Recipient of Galaxy award, Triumph award and Star awards for various accomplishments as part of the leadership roles at BBRC. Authored 10 research articles related to animal experiments.